This has been a winter to remember - ice storms, power outages, record snow accumulations and the threat of flooding!!!!

The City of East Lansing has launched a neighborhood outreach program to provide residents with important information about emergency preparedness and what steps we can take to be better prepared for emergencies, including signing up for Nixle - a notification system that provides email and/or text message alerts to residents during emergencies. ELPD Neighborhood Watch officer, Adrian Ojerio, will provide a special presentation to us at 7p.m.
